IATA Operational Safety Audit (IOSA) Registration

Jet Airways (India) Ltd. has earned the distinction of receiving the IATA Operational Safety Audit (IOSA) Registration. The airline has successfully completed the Operational Safety Audit and has entered into the IOSA Registry.

IOSA is a quality audit programme under the continuing stewardship of IATA (International Air Transport Association). It is a globally recognised and accepted benchmarking and evaluation system for assessing the operational management and control systems of an airline. IOSA uses internationally accepted quality audit principles that ensure the audits are conducted in a standardised and consistent manner. Airlines use IOSA Registration for a variety of benefits, which include improving Safety within the airline, code share facilitation, and audit reduction.

With the implementation and international acceptance of IOSA the industry has achieved the benefits of cost-efficiency through a significant reduction in audits. The focus and scope of the IOSA audit is on proper documentation and implementation of standard operating procedures in various operational areas of the airline such as, Flight Operations, Aircraft Engineering and Maintenance, Flight Dispatch, Cabin Operations, Security, Ground Handling and Cargo.

Chairman's Profile

Naresh Goyal, the founder Chairman of Jet Airways, India's premier international airline, has over 40 years of experience in the Civil Aviation industry.

After graduating in Commerce in 1967, Mr. Goyal joined the travel business with the GSA for Lebanese International Airlines. From 1967 to 1974, he underwent extensive training in all facets of the travel business through his association with several foreign airlines. He also travelled overseas extensively on business during this period.

With the experience, expertise and technical know-how thereby acquired, in May 1974, Mr. Naresh Goyal founded Jetair (Private) Limited with the objective of providing Sales and Marketing representation to foreign airlines in India. He was involved in the development of traffic patterns, route structures, operational economics and flight scheduling, all of which has made him an authority in the world of aviation and travel.

In 1991, as part of the ongoing diversification of his business activities, Mr. Goyal took advantage of the opening of the Indian economy and the enunciation of the Open Skies Policy by the Government of India to set up Jet Airways for the operation of scheduled air services on domestic sectors in India. Jet Airways commenced commercial operations on May 05, 1993.

With his vast experience in the field of aviation, Mr. Goyal has been serving on the prestigious International Air Transport Association (IATA) Board of Governors from the year 2008 with his tenure going up to 2013. Mr. Goyal has been further re-elected to the IATA Board of Governors until 2015, at the IATA AGM last held in Cape Town, South Africa.

Taking advantage of the Government of India's recent FDI policy, Naresh Goyal led Jet Airways was able to successfully conclude a strategic partner deal with Etihad Airways. Etihad has a 24% equity stake in Jet Airways. The strategic investment is expected to deliver wide-ranging revenue growth and cost synergy opportunities for both airlines in the areas of operational synergies and cost savings including fleet acquisition, maintenance, product development and training.

Chairman's Profile

Mr. Goyal is the recipient of several national and international awards, including:

- 'Entrepreneur of the Year Award for Services' from Ernst & Young in September 2000
- 'Distinguished Alumni Award-2000' for meritorious and distinguished performance as an Entrepreneur' in October 2000.

Engineering & Maintenance

Jet Airways' Engineering & Maintenance department have been approved by DGCA, India, as Continuing Airworthiness Management Organization (CAMO) under CAR-M and as Aircraft Maintenance Repair Organization under CAR 145. The scope of approval covers Management of Continuing Airworthiness, including Airworthiness Review of aircraft and maintenance of aircraft in the fleet. The fleet supported and maintained by the departments consist of Airbus A330, ATR- 72, Boeing B-737 NG and Boeing B-777.

The Engineering & Maintenance facilities are also approved by various external regulatory agencies under part 145 system such as CAAS-Singapore, GCAA-UAE, QCA-Qatar, DCA-Malaysia, DGSAS-Oman CAA-Bangladesh, ECAA- Egypt, CASA-Australia etc for certification of aircraft registered with the respective state while operated to India and neighbouring countries.

Various policies and procedures adhered by the departments are documented in CAME and MOE which are approved by regulatory authorities, meeting all the applicable requirements of aviation regulations.

The Engineering & Maintenance department also provides complete Engineering and Maintenance solution covering all requirements of CAR-M and CAR 145 for the fleet operated by its subsidiary JetKonnnect.

The Engineering & Maintenance department's headquarters is based in Mumbai. Various departments accomplishing these tasks are Planning & Logistics, Technical Services, Base maintenance, Shop Maintenance, Line Maintenance and Quality. Functions of these departments are executed by a workforce of around 2800 personnel.

The maintenance capabilities are Line and Base maintenance of B737 and ATR fleet and line maintenance of B777 and A330 fleet. The base maintenance hangar and support infrastructure is located at Mumbai Airport, Delhi Airport and at HAL complex, Bengaluru, while the line maintenance facilities are spread across the net work stations. Limited shop maintenance facility exists in Mumbai and Delhi to support the operational need of the fleet.

Engineering & Maintenance

The base maintenance of wide body fleet are accomplished through out sourcing to FAA or EASA and DGCA approved maintenance repair agencies whose capabilities are further evaluated and approved by Jet Airways.

The management and monitoring of Engineering & Maintenance functions are accomplished by using a fully automated and stable IT system called AMOS. The system is adequately backed up and protected as required by regulation.

The Line maintenance department provide certification and handling supports to customer airlines such as Singapore Airline, Emirates, Qatar Airways, Malaysian Airlines, Air Asia, Fly Dubai, Egypt Air, Biman Bangladesh, Oman Air, Air Mauritius, Qantas etc.

It has full fledged engineering training facility, approved by DGCA, for imparting variety of training to aircraft maintenance personnel. These include basic training to Graduate Engineering Trainees, type training on all aircraft in the fleet to basic qualified maintenance personnel. It also impart training on human factors, refresher, familiarization, task based training to maintenance personnel as well as support staff.

All functions of the departments are continuously monitored and evaluated through systematic quality monitoring under Quality Management system constituted internally. In addition, the systems and procedures are being continuously audited by various regulatory authorities to confirm compliance with documented policies and procedures and regulatory requiems. In addition the functioning is audited by industry bodies like IATA, customer airlines, owners of leased aircraft etc.

Going ahead, to meet growing need of engineering support for expanding fleet and to develop in-house capability for base maintenance of wide body fleet, Jet Airways is in negotiations with various agencies to develop additional base maintenance facilities in the coming years.
